

Positive Management Leadership

What is Positive Management Leadership

and what makes it different from other management and supervisor training programs on the market? These are great questions and easily answered.

Positive Management Leadership, or PML for short, is unique in its design and presentation. The program is not simply designed to teach management about the importance and benefits of positive employee relations, good communications, leadership, etc...

PML is designed and presented in a unique "experiential learning" environment that forces attendees to "experience" success and failure, helps them understand how they react under pressure, makes them focus on being a leader and solving problems in an intense, non-traditional training exercise. PML is a powerful program in the way it teaches its lessons. Many adults won't apply new knowledge to their life without experiencing a strong psychological and/or emotional lesson. PML does that through the unique experiential learning exercise that makes up a significant portion of the seminar. This is why people leave PML calling it the most valuable and unforgettable training event they have ever encountered. It's common to hear it referred to as "a life-changing event." Let PML help your managers and supervisors become more effective leaders in your organization.

Are you concerned about recent (and upcoming) changes being made by the NLRB?

PML is your answer!

"It's an Emotional & Sometimes Life-Changing Event, Not Your Standard 8 to 5 Seminar!"

"It's Intense! It's Relevant to Today's Manager!"

"It's About Changing the Environment and Culture of an Organization..."
